

Queen of Cards

5"x 7" $16.50/dz

QCG-1

Inside: Bruce and Lionel were never quite the same after that foxhole incident

QCG-2

Inside: Bernice always found herself a little behind in her gardening.

QCG-4

Inside: Bob couldn't wait to see the looks on the faces at her class reunion.

QCG-6

Inside: Lurlene was first in her Red Hat Society to experience the unbridled excitement of no underwear.

QCG-8

Inside: As a small boy, Carl never dreamed that one day he would be named Ice Princess

QCG-9

Outside: Tell me, Edna, did you and Earl ever have mutual orgasm?
No....I think we had State Farm
Inside: Blank

QCG-10

Outside: In his heart, Bernard knew it would never work.

QCG-11

Inside: Judy developed a most unusual attraction to Krispy Kreme.

QCG-14

Inside: Tiffany misunderstood when her date said let's go Dutch.

QCG-18

Inside: After receiving her Christmas goose, Gretchen responded with a high C.

QCG-19

Inside: Edward was secretly amused after winning the title of Miss Lubbock.

QCG-22

Inside: Secretly, the others all viewed Orville as the weakest link.

QCG-3

Inside: Mary and Gene were shocked to discover there wasn't a beach anywhere close to Kansas.

QCG-5

Inside: Over time, Delbert developed a close, but somewhat unnatural relationship with his hood ornament.

QCG-7

Inside: In spite of it all, Jeremy decided it was best for Lorraine to meet his ex.

QCG-12

Inside: Arnold quivered with excitement when he learned he made the girls' synchronized swim team.

QCG-16

Inside: Of course there were raised eyebrows, but Derek was secure in his sexuality.

QCG-17

Inside: Yes, it was highly irregular, but Jacob saw the real benefits of two husbands and two wives.

QCG-29

Inside: Voltage regulated. Amps adjusted. The Orgasmatron was ready.

QCG-31

Inside: Sometimes it occurred to Vera that Zeke viewed her merely as arm candy.

QCG-32

Inside: Suddenly, we understood how Uncle Al got that arrow in his ass.

QCG-33

Inside: Pearl and Lester, the super glue addicts, moments before an intervention by the 7:05 bullet train.

QCG-34

Inside: While fully embracing her femininity, Jasmine occasionally longed for her days as a lumberjack.

QCG-35

Inside: As a Republican, Roger went to great lengths to protect his lacy underall secret.

QCG-36

Inside: Well, sure. Of course. But only during shore leave.

QCG-37

Inside: Wow. Who would have thought it?

QCG-38

Inside: The guests were shocked that Miles and Blaine had the nerve to wear white on their wedding day.

QCG-39

Inside: Even when the trumpets blew, the Unitarians were amused by the thought of The Rapture.

QCG-41

Inside: Sweet. Magic mushroom and a visit from Uncle Bruce.

QCG-44

Inside: Eventually, Walter realized medical science could only take him so far. Congratulations on your major new developments.

QCG-42

Inside: The Believers were unprepared for a ride that would take them precariously close to hell.

QCG-20

Inside: The missionettes were pumped and ready to kick butt for Jesus.

QCG-21

Inside: It wasn't that Burl was too big for his britches. It's just that he had a small ass.

QCG-23

Inside: While waiting for a jump from AAA, Fannie found it increasingly difficult to suppress her roadside sexuality.

QCG-24

Inside: Suddenly, Buford remembered he was in the witness protection program.

QCG-26

Inside: Patiently, the Republicans waited for the arrival of the exotic lap dancers.

QCG-27

Inside: The O'Malley's awaited breathlessly the arrival of the folks from Architectural Digest.

QCG-28

Inside: At their convention in Toronto, the Shriners were greeted by two hookers and a gay caballero.

QCG-40

Inside: Oscar was pleased with the results of his penile implant.

QCG-45

Inside: There was always something odd about the middle brother.

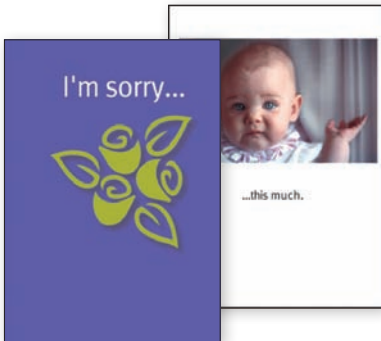

QCG-46

Outside: Don't let them tell you all wives do it.
Inside: Celebrate the occasion!

N

Nickel Short

5"x 7" $15.00/dz

NS1005

Outside: I'm sorry..
Inside: ...this much.

NS1008

Outside: Lenny the world's smartest dog
Inside: ..knew his miserable performance in the math competition had ruined his reputation

NS1009

Outside: Missing you..
Inside: blank

NS1016

Outside: It took some doing, but Bob finally convinced Shirley to sleep over..
Inside: blank

NS1038

Outside: Yesterday he was a cop, tomorrow he's going to be a pirate..
Inside: but today he's a fireman, and he's climbing up to rescue a cat. Happy birthday, dreamer!

NS1018

Outside: Nobody can fill your shoes..
Inside: blank

NS1037

Outside: We're an odd couple..
Inside: ...but somehow it works.